Storage of Medica products during shipping

August 27, 2018

To whom it may concern:

There are two groups of Medica products from the storage temperature point of view. The first is room temperature (4-25°C) and the second refrigerated (2-8°C). Shipping the first group at any ambient temperature for up to 1 month is considered safe. However, extended storage should be within 4-25°C. Shipping of the second group at ambient temperatures for up to 1 week does not change the product in a significant way (>1%).

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "P. Makris". The signature is written in a cursive style and is positioned above a horizontal line.
